

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

Raleigh Churchmen Will be in Charge of Dispensary When Delegates Visit It.

MANY ADDRESSES DELIVERED

Men Who Applied Six Hours After Janitor's Death for His Job Will be Refused.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., April 6.—State Auditor B. F. Dixon in welcoming the delegates to the State Sunday School Convention last night declared that he was not authorized to invite them to the Raleigh dispensary, but that if any of them cared to call there they would find deacons and stewards and other church officers in charge.

Governor Glenn was detained in Greensboro yesterday and did not reach here in time to deliver his address before the Sunday School Convention last night on "The Dawn of a New Day." He arrived this morning but will probably not address the convention at all now. There are about one hundred and fifty delegates here for the convention.

One of the features of the convention this morning was an address, "Trained Workers for the Sunday School," by W. C. Pierce, secretary of the International Sunday School Association. Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, International Sunday school field worker, spoke on "Teaching Through the Eye." This afternoon there was a primary and Junior session, led by Mrs. Bryner, and a conference on distinctive work for boys and young men, the speakers being Professor T. Neil Johnson, of Raleigh; R. N. Simms, of Raleigh; Professor George H. Crowell, of High Point, and T. B. Eldridge, of Raleigh. George P. Pell, of Winston-Salem, delivered a powerful address on the "Sunday School's Call for Men."

Rush for Janitor's Job.

It is stated by a State official that before Ed. M. Ferrell, the janitor of the State Capitol building who lost his life in the horrible boiler explosion, near Raleigh yesterday, had been dead six hours, there were seven applications filed for appointment as his successor. The official is free in declaring that he does not think any of the seven deserve the appointment. The salary is $50 per month. The Supreme Court has handed down opinions in seventeen cases, none of them being of special public interest. State vs. Tyson, from Scotland county, involved the right of a prisoner on trial for his life to plead former jeopardy when at his first trial a juror became so intoxicated that the judge ordered a mistrial.

In passing on the question of former jeopardy, the Supreme Court holds that the ruling of the judge below was correct, and that there was not really a trial in the first instance when the juror became intoxicated.
